The heat is on: Webasto launches the space-saving Thermo Top Evo heater at TheYachtMarket.com Southampton Boat Show

Space is at a premium onboard which is why Webasto considers it so important to offer solutions that are as functional and efficient as they are space-saving. The company's taken its Thermo Top Evo heater, originally designed for caravans, and evolved it for the marine market, meaning that boat owners can stay warm, whatever the weather.

The Thermo Top Evo heater will be on display at Webasto's stand (J368) at TheYachtMarket.com Southampton Boat Show where visitors will be able to meet the team, and fully appreciate the compact, light-weight nature of the product.

"It's an especially space-saving solution, that retains exceptional performance," says David Stafford, Commercial Manager for Webasto Thermo & Comfort UK Ltd. "Constant heating is feasible and even better, the system operates with continuous adjustment capability in the range of 2.5 to 5.0 kW. The heater can be conveniently and intuitively controlled with the MultiControl digital preset timer and it's also available for retrofitting."

The advantages of the Thermo Top Evo include stepless heating power adjustment between 2.5 and 5 kW and a very fast heat-up phase, essential when you're wet, cold and tired. It's low noise emission, multi-controls and space-saving size make it a must for every discerning boat owner.

The Webasto team will be available on stand J368 at TheYachtMarket.com Southampton Boat Show to present products from its innovative range of solutions for onboard comfort from refrigeration, to heating and cooling. The YachtMarket.com Southampton Boat Show takes place from 14th September to 23rd September 2018.
