Superyacht Tenders and Toys proudly announces its status as the agent for sales of Nautique Tenders to super and mega yachts

Superyacht Tenders and Toys has become the agent for sales of Nautique Tenders to yachts and is delighted to feature a G23 and a 210 Nautique on stand QA7 at the Monaco Yacht Show.

The exclusive supplier relationship has been borne out of shared values over products, passion and performance, and an existing long-term successful relationship. Superyacht Tenders and Toys are able to advise and assist in the placement of them onboard and also oversee all customisations such as removable windscreens, towers and custom lifting points. The company can also custom paint to match the mothership as required.

“Clients love the Nautique’s we’ve supplied,” says Josh Richardson, chief executive, “whether they’re off plan, or customised as required. The wakes are brilliant whether it’s a ski, wake or surf boat. Nautique’s tender design is beautifully simple, and the quality of build is unrivalled. I am such a fan I have my own personal boat and so I know exactly what they’re like – awesome.”

Find out more about the service which SYTT offers, project managing the build, and overseeing the delivery by visiting the team at the Monaco Yacht Show, or visiting superyachttendersandtoys.com.
