Fischer Panda UK to exhibit at the first Green Tech Boat Show

Highlighting its range of eco-friendly products, Fischer Panda UK is showcasing its complete, customised electric drive solutions at MDL Marinas' first Green Tech Boat Show at Queen Anne's Battery, Plymouth, 19-20 June 2021.

"We're delighted to have Fischer Panda UK onboard at our new Green Tech Boat Show," says Tim Mayer, MDL's Sales and Marketing Director. "We want to bring together the marine community's innovators and change-makers, who are working towards a greener future for boating, and Fisher Panda UK is a perfect example with its battery, parallel hybrid and generator supported electric propulsion solutions."

With 70 landside stands and 30 on water berths available, this strong platform is designed to allow the marine industry to demonstrate how it's contributing to combatting climate change, while still enabling people to enjoy time out on the water and the proven benefits that brings.

Fischer Panda UK is just one of the Green Tech Boat Show's exciting line-up of sustainable boating brands and marine businesses that will be presenting their products to boat owners wishing to make the switch to greener options, and prospective owners who'd like to start their boating journey in the most environmentally friendly way possible.

The first boat show of its kind in the UK, MDL's Green Tech Boat Show is a must for any marine business with green alternatives to existing products, or new and innovative products designed to sustainably meet the needs of the boating public.

Boat viewings will be by pre-booked appointments only. For land-based exhibits, tickets will be available in advance. MDL Marinas is working closely with the local authorities in Plymouth to ensure that the event will be Covid-secure and in line with the appropriate Government guidelines.

Spaces both on the water and ashore are limited and filling up fast, so MDL advises any companies interested in exhibiting at the Green Tech Boat Show to not delay in contacting Tim Mayer via t.mayer@mdlmarinas.co.uk.
