Typhoon International makes debut at RYA Dinghy & Watersports Show

Reinforcing its commitment to dinghy sailors and watersport enthusiasts, Typhoon International is exhibiting at the RYA Dinghy & Watersports Show for the first time, 25-26 February 2023.

With over seven decades of experience in technical marine clothing manufacturer and design, Typhoon will be showcasing and selling its extensive surface drysuit collection as well as a comprehensive range of its dinghy and watersports apparel, including the popular Caliso3 Eco Long John and Top and the Chesil 50N Buoyancy Aid.

Caliso3 Eco Long John and Top

Available in youth, men's and women's styles and sizes, the Caliso3 Eco Long John and Top is manufactured from limestone neoprene and eco carbon black, the latest in eco-friendly and sustainable recycled materials, offering the feel-good factor as well as enhanced thermal protection.

Chesil 50N Buoyancy Aid

With a high cut and reflective detailing for increased visibility, the new low-profile Chesil 50N Buoyancy Aid is made with a super soft fabric and designed specifically for sailors who require minimum bulk and maximum freedom of movement.

"We're delighted to be exhibiting at the RYA Dinghy and Watersports Show for the first time," says Amy Grealish, Marketing Manager at Typhoon.

"Our aim is to provide dinghy sailors and watersports participants with the right gear for their chosen activity. The show gives us a wonderful opportunity to connect with the sailing and watersports community to demonstrate how our ranges ensure comfort on the water, without compromising on range of movement, no matter what the weather.

Typhoon's exciting range will be available to view and purchase throughout the show at the Farnborough International Exhibition & Conference Centre on stand L19, and Typhoon's dedicated team will also be on hand to offer expert product advice.
