Following a stellar reception at boot Dusseldorf last week, the 28-metre Sanlorenzo SL90A is on its way to the UK.

After arriving in Southampton, it will journey to London where it will become the first yacht from the Italian shipyard to grace the river Thames before berthing at the historic St Katherine Docks.

While it's based at this iconic maritime location, Sanlorenzo Yachts UK will be inviting prospective owners onboard for an exclusive tour of the magnificent SL90A. It's a unique opportunity to experience the true meaning of customisation, underpinned by style and elegance.

Designed by Bernado Zuccon, this beautifully specified SL90A has been personalised with a light and modern interior using different wood, marble, and fabric textures, providing a subtle and dignified decor. And with four extremely well-appointed staterooms, each with its own en-suite bathroom, up to eight guests can be accommodated in refined comfort.

Taking its model name from its bold and innovative Asymmetric internal formation, the SL90A's port side deck has been moved up a level to increase the yacht's interior volume. With the saloon on the main deck now expanded by 10-15 per cent, it's been possible to create a tangible connection with the sea through the floor to ceiling windows.

Equipped with powerful twin MAN 2000hp diesel engines a cruising speed of 25 knots is attainable, while a 1100nm range can be achieved when travelling at 10 knots (eco cruising speed).

Built by Sanlorenzo Yachts at its Ameglia base on the Ligurian coast of Italy, this tailor-made yacht breaks the mould compared to others in her class, while remaining under the important 24-metre hull length.

One of a kind, this yacht is available now.
