Wessex Resins & Adhesives Announces Strategic Partnership with GRP Solutions for PRO-SET® Epoxy Across the UK.

A new specialist partnership set to strengthen access to PRO-SET® Epoxy for composite manufacturers throughout the UK.

Together, this partnership is designed to deliver a stronger, more responsive supply chain and a higher standard of technical support for composite manufacturers across the region.

GRP Solutions are exactly the kind of partner we look for when expanding the reach of PRO-SET Epoxy. Their technical credibility, customer first ethos and deep roots in the composites industry make them an outstanding fit for this range, and we have no doubt this partnership will create genuine, long-term value for manufacturers across the UK." Sam Oliver, Managing Director.

"Building long-term relationships with composite manufacturers requires genuine technical knowledge and end-to-end customer support and that is what GRP Solutions delivers. We are thrilled to partner with GRP Solutions with PRO-SET Epoxy at the core of their offering and firmly believe that combining their service-led approach with our world-class epoxy systems will set a new benchmark how customers are supported across the region". Julian Bush, Head of Commercial.

"GRP Solutions is dedicated to offering customers a complete composites portfolio, and the addition of Wessex Resins' PRO-SET range is an important step in achieving that. We're also passionate about working with businesses that share our values, culture and commitment to quality. With locations across the UK, GRP Solutions is perfectly placed to provide customers with both technical support and fast, reliable delivery. I'm really excited about this new partnership and confident it will be a successful one." Brian Harpur, Managing Director

GRP Solutions has established itself as a trusted specialist within the UK composites sector, delivering high-quality materials from world-leading suppliers alongside the technical expertise and responsive service the industry relies on.

PRO-SET Epoxy is a globally recognised portfolio of high-performance epoxy systems trusted by professionals across marine, defence, wind energy and advanced composites. The range is distinguished by its exceptional mechanical properties process versatility, and long-term reliability.
